

NCASC Major Events

Middle Level Workshop

...held the last weekend in September at the Betsy-Jeff Penn 4-H Center in Reidsville, the MLWS has become a way to get the year off to a great start. MLWS is open to students from grades 6 to 9. Registration info available on the website

State Convention

...held in the spring and hosted by the president school, this three day event provides the culminating experience for the student council year. Exciting speakers, workshops, recognition of community service, the elections of new officer schools and networking are highlights of this event. Registration info will be on the website in the spring

Summer Leadership Workshop

...held in July at Mars Hill College, this event is in its 53rd year. The workshop is the main leadership training experience provided by the association. Students are divided into councils and during workshop, experience a year of "council life". Communication, decision making, cooperation, and project planning skills are emphasized along with personal growth. An advisor program is held in conjunction with the student program. Info available in April

District Conferences

...held in the fall, the district conferences are open to all schools, member or non-member. The host school plans a day of mixers, speakers, and workshops. This year's locations are listed in the calender of events on the back of this brochure. Registration info available on the website
